Among The Year's Best*

“There is an inner tension to this wine manifest in its red fruit and acidity, in a prickle on the tongue and a crispness to the fruit. On the surface, scents of ripe fruit and chestnuts speak of the power of the Sun in the heights of Salta. The texture is unctuous and soft, coating every corner of the palate.”

(Very good: a wine with special qualities)

“A racy, floral red, with layers of raspberry ganache, blackberry and light fig fruit that mingle with spice, spring herb and light mesquite notes. Though not a powerhouse, this is a well-balanced Malbec. Malbec, Cabernet Sauvignon, Tannat and Syrah. Drink now.”

“13 Great Values for Spring”

“Sunny Argentina is a hotbed for value, especially for reds made from the country’s signature grape, Malbec. The Amalaya cuvée from Hess Family Latin America, a recent spin-off from Bodega Colomé, is a perennial top value from the northern Salta region and leads this report. The wine is a blend of 75 percent Malbec, with added Cabernet Sauvignon and Tannat for structure and a dash of Syrah for additional flesh.”

(Excellent)

“Cherry liqueur, menthol, violet and spicy oak on the nose and palate. Suave, supple and energetic, with a sugar/acid balance giving the mid-palate insidious intensity and good definition. Nicely rising, fine-grained finish shows good length and a light touch. Sophisticated for the price.”
