BODEGA COLOMÉ

2013 Altura Maxima Malbec

98 Points

You'd expect the highest vineyard in the world to produce something special, and that's definitely the case here. Picked at the end of April, this high altitude Malbec has matched up to the abundant promise of its first vintage in 2012. Powerfully aromatic and focused, it's dense, profound and textured, packed with crunchy, spicy blackberry and black cherry fruit and destined for further development in bottle. 2017-26
